

I would like to keep the no call list the way it currently is. Both myself and wife work had all day. The last thing we need is the phone ringing, when we finally have time to un-wind and relax. Besides I have never purchased anything over the phone and never will. I always hang up on these calls, and in the past years when we received 3 to 7 calls a night, I would get very upset. I don't need this. As far as the banking Industry goes. The few charge cards we currntly have, we have for years and plan to keep those. I would not do any business with the Banks over the phone. So if this gets passed, it would only create a lot of frustration, which after a long day a work NOBODY NEEDS.
